Interests

Interests: One of my main interests is programming, I am currently a self-taught web developer using online tools in the languages HTML, CSS and JS. I love being able to create things that can help other people and teaching myself how to code helps me achieve that. This has also led me to start freelancing as a way to extend my skills to those who require it and I have found this as a rewarding experience. Outside, of programming, I enjoy keeping fit and healthy by going to the gym and
